INGREDIENTS

½ head	Cauliflower, coarsely chopped into florets/small pieces (about 3 cups)
1 cups	Milk, 1%, Low-fat
¼ tsp	Garlic Powder
⅛ tsp	Nutmeg, ground
⅛ tsp	Smoked Paprika
⅛ tsp	Cayenne Pepper (optional)
1 cup	Cheddar Cheese, shredded
½ cup	Parmesan Cheese, grated
½ tsp	Kosher Salt
12 oz.	Whole Wheat Penne Pasta (or any short cut shape)

CHEF'S NOTES

Cauliflower is a versatile vegetable that is available in the winter in Louisiana and is a good source of Vitamin C, which is critical to get in the winter months for its immune boosting properties.

We add nutmeg to this recipe to add a warmth and complexity to the rich, creaminess of the sauce.

If you like a baked mac & cheese, you can add whole wheat breadcrumbs and a little parmesan cheese before popping under the broiler for a crunchy topping.

DIRECTIONS

1. Gather all necessary equipment and ingredients.
2. Bring two large saucepots of water to a boil. Once boiling, add the cut cauliflower to one pot and cook until very tender, about ___ minutes. Add the pasta to the other pot and cook until al dente, about 8-10 minutes. Strain and set aside.
3. Once the cauliflower is cooked, strain it and add to a blender. Add the milk, butter, garlic powder, cayenne, nutmeg, and salt. Blend on high until very smooth.
4. Add the cheeses and blend again until melted and creamy. If needed, add a little water to reach the desired consistency.
5. Pour the finished sauce over the cooked pasta and stir to combine well. Enjoy!
