CHEF'S NOTES

If you like a spicy curry, feel free to add a little black pepper, crushed red pepper, or a pinch of cayenne with the other spices.

Red lentils make for easy dinners because they cook quickly and have a mild flavor with plenty of fiber and plant-based protein. They don't hold their shape like brown or green lentils, so their creamy texture is perfect for curries and soups.

DIRECTIONS

1. Gather all necessary equipment and ingredients.
2. Heat a medium saucepot over medium-high heat. Once hot, add the oil and then the onion and bell pepper. Cook until lightly browned and translucent, about 2-4 minutes.
3. Add the garlic and ginger, stirring constantly, until fragrant, about 30-60 seconds.
4. Add the spices and salt and stir to coat the vegetables, allowing the spices to lightly toast, about another 30-60 seconds.
5. Add the crushed tomatoes. Using a wooden spoon, scrape up any brown bits stuck to the bottom of the pot.
6. Add the coconut milk, water, lentils, and sweet potato, stirring to combine. Bring to a boil then cover and reduce to a simmer. Simmer for about 10-12 minutes, until the lentils and potatoes are soft.
7. Add the mango and cook on low, uncovered, allowing the mango to soften, about 2-4 minutes.

8. Remove from the heat and stir in ¼ cup chopped cilantro. Serve over your favorite whole grain topped with additional cilantro and a lime wedge for squeezing.
